PRAYER

Jesus Christ, son of God, have mercy on me. Open my heart during this season of Lent. Help me to bow and yield to your Spirit that dwells within me, the gateway to your transforming love.

QUESTIONS FOR REFLECTION

- The names we call Jesus matter because it shapes who we are in relation to him. Other than the name you were given at birth, what are some other names people call you? (Example: family names, names and titles you are given at work, names that your friends call you or nicknames). How have these names shaped you?
- As you have grown in your Christian faith, have you adopted new and different names of Jesus than the one you used to call him? What are they?
- Describe the images you think of in the Key Verse, Philippians 2:10.
- Kenosis, the theological term for Jesus' self-emptying of his divine nature, allows Jesus to connect to humanity in an inexplicable way. What does the humanity of Christ mean to you?
- What are the ways in which Paul tells us to be? These model for us the very essence of Christlikeness we strive for. To what ways is Jesus calling you to act during this season of Lent?
